He was speaking after unveiling the Dasara Logo and releasing the Gajapayana Poster, at the DC Office, here this morning. "This year it is neither going to be a very simple nor a grand Dasara, but a traditional one like the earlier years. The CM has also agreed to release Rs. 21 crore for repairing and developing inner roads in city and Rs. 117 crore for repair works of 17 roads leading to Mysuru from Bengaluru," the Minister said.

He said since there was a balance of Rs. 5.25 crore from last year, even that will be released once the utility certificate is given and asked the officials to maintain the cleanliness of the city.

Apart from Dasara Procession and Torch Light Parade at Bannimantap, there will also be Dasara Sports, Fine Arts and Karakushala Dasara, Yuva Sambhrama and Yuva Dasara, Film Festival, Children's Dasara, Food Mela, KSRTC's hop-on-and-off tour of Mysuru, he said.

The CM had also agreed to release Rs. 50 lakh for Srirangapatna Dasara and Rs. 1 crore for Chamarajanagar Dasara.

Lingayats take out rally

Demand Separate Religious Status

Mysuru, July 31 (RKB&US)- About 50 members of Lingayata Dharma Samanvaya Samithi, demanding a separate religious status for the community, took out a rally from Gandhiji's bust in front of City Court Complex to the Deputy Commissioner's (DC) Office here this morning.

The members contended that Basavanna too had pointed out that all Sharanas should be together and hence urged the State Government to impress upon the Centre to recognise Lingayat as a separate religion.

They later submitted a memorandum in this regard to the Deputy Commissioner.

The rally was led by Samithi leaders Chowhalli Lingaraj, Shivanand Swamy, H.P. Gangadara Swamy, V. Shivarudrappa, K.S. Nanjappa, Basava Yogesh and advocate Mahesh.

Pollution Platitude

Talking about any of the plethora of matters going out of hands in the land nowadays is nothing short of flogging the dead horse as it were. Of these, two issues that have swamped the land and its masses stand out, one being corruption and the other pollution, in whichever order of bringing the administration to disrepute one chooses to take. Of course, keeping august company with these two major pre-occupations of the country's diaspora are the other acts of people in a long list that have sent the law-makers as well as the law-keepers into a tizzy. Both parties, namely the conspicuous players in the game of steeply lowering the global image of the nation and the rest mute witnesses to their unedifying acts come from the same mass of 130 crore headcount across the land.

While pollution, as a negative parameter, hogged limelight in the ongoing rating of the land's cities (covering about half their total number) for according the cleanest-city-tag and other ranks, so also the perceived extent of good governance seems to be based on the exposed corruption of the politicos and babudom, also a negative parameter. It was, therefore, appropriate to do the rating of cities as least unclean (polluted) and administration as least corrupt, an effortless and expedient approach.

A major national-level realisation of sorts, happening quite recently, that answering nature's call in open spaces by urbanites and in fields near their dwellings by the rustics contributes to diseases that could have been avoided by the land's masses releasing their daily waste products has hogged columns of dailies and telecast times of television channels like never before. The government has adopted many innovative steps to induce the traditionally-defecating-in-the-open sections of the population to relieve themselves in total privacy within the confines of the toilet. Even a Bollywood colossus has been roped in to promote toilet-use and give up the smelly tradition. Pollution, in its various avatars, has some chance of being arrested in times ahead, but nobody dare say the same about corruption, going by the idiom 'Habit is second nature.'

The lead scientist at the Centre for Ecological Sciences, Indian Institute of Science, Bengaluru, while speaking during an international conclave in the city this week has sounded an authoritative warning that Mysuru too could end up staring at a highly degraded environment similar to Bengaluru. Such warnings have been voiced by many knowledgeable speakers at various congregations, but with not even a marginal change in the pollution-corruption twin scenario, platitudes mark their warnings.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

BOTTOMS UP: I'd been noticing that, all of a sudden, a growing number of men, particularly young men, seemed to be losing a lot of weight – or at least a lot of inches – from their waists. At first I thought it was because gymming was catching on in a big way. Or maybe a new crash diet had been invented which would make your tummy shrink like a deflated balloon. Then I realised that all these guys weren't actually losing weight, or inches. What had made me think that they were was that the waistband of their trousers was so low that it oughtn't to be called a waistband but a backsideband. The result was that you could see the colour of the chaddi the chap was wearing. Or, in some cases, you could see he wasn't wearing any chaddi at all and was showing the whole wide world that he was having a bad hair day, except it wasn't happening on his head but at the other extremity of his spinal column. Why is it that so many men – women haven't started sporting this new sartorial style, at least not so far – seem bent on baring their bottoms to full public gaze? And the answer, of course, is because it's the latest fashion.

"Game of Thrones" cake

Abu Dhabi: Tyrion Lannister isn't just one of the most beloved characters on HBO's hit series "Game of Thrones," he is also the inspiration behind one of the most expensive cakes ever made — a 70-pound work of art showing the Halfman sitting on the Iron Throne.

The Broadway Bakery, in Dubai, recently celebrated the new season of "Game of Thrones" by creating an incredibly detailed cake featuring everyone's favourite imp, Tyrion Lannister. Made primarily of sugar paste and fondant, the edible masterpiece stands four feet tall and large enough to feed a crowd of 100 – 120 people. All the edible swords that make up the Iron Throne had to be shaped and painted individually, before assembling the iconic chair, and Tyrion himself took even more work. The artists in charge of the project tried to get the tiniest details, down to his stubble and facial scars, just right. All in all, it took "2 expert cake artists accompanied by a team of 18 talented chefs working over a period of three weeks" to finish the cake.

An 'young' old man

Singapore: Asian media is abuzz with talk and photos of a 50-year-old Singaporean photographer who doesn't look a day over 30. His name is Chuando Tan and to say that he has aged well would be a gross understatement.

So who is this guy? Well, Chaundo was apparently one of the most sought-after male models in Singapore, during the 80s and 90s, which inspired his interest in fashion and photography. In 1996, after a brief career as a Mandarin pop singer, he reinvented himself as a fashion photographer, and, despite finding the transition pretty difficult, he eventually became very successful.

How he maintains his incredibly youthful looks. Genetics definitely plays a huge role, but Chuando has always regarded his body as a temple, relying on a number of habits to maintain his fitness and overall good looks.

Stray dog menace in Ramakrishnanagar

Sir,

This refers to the various letters and factual reports on 'stray dog menace' that appeared in Star of Mysore recently. I would like to add that in Ramakrishnanagar-I Block also this menace is increasing. Some times there are so many, clustered together, like there is a 'Summit Meeting of dogs'.

On a serious note, it is not just the stray dogs, even the pet dogs are left free on roads when their owners take them for a walk. When these huge dogs come near other people walking, it is very scary.

When we ask them, the dog owners just tell us that it won't bite. Some are so indifferent and arrogant that they don't even bother answering. Many times I have seen dogs chasing the two-wheeler riders.

People who have dogs as pets should also have some discipline and knowledge of how to raise them. In some of the foreign countries I have visited, there are no stray dogs and pet dogs are 'ALWAYS' on leash when they are brought out. There are parks where boards are kept saying 'Dogs on leash only' or 'Dogs free'.

It is high time some regulations are made in this regard for the welfare of dogs and also of pedestrians.

Strict rules of KSRTC causing problems to students with bus passes

Mysuru, July 31 (PM&NNN)- There are many Government welfare schemes, both at the Centre and the State, meant to mitigate the problems of the poor, downtrodden and marginalised sections. No doubt, the schemes are full of good intentions. But, sometimes, the ground reality is different.

Take the concessional bus passes issued to rural students for instance, which is paved with good intentions. Has the real concerns of the students been addressed? Majority of the students, coming from rural areas, are finding it difficult to attend classes on time. It is because of the rules of KSRTC that they have been put to a lot of inconvenience.

The passes issued to the students are restricted to the students to commute from the nearest bus stand to the college. This has resulted in many of them reaching their colleges late.

The students commuting from rural areas do not have the facility of going to the Central Bus Stand (CBS). If they had an opportunity to travel from the CBS then their problems could be solved, said a few students.

This problem is being faced specially by students of Kuvempunagar Government First Grade College. They have to catch the buses midway to the college and when the fully-loaded buses reach the bus stops, they do not have even an inch of space to get in. The buses most of the times do not even stop. Hence, a lot of time is wasted.

The rural students going from Hullahalli to Kuvempunagar First Grade College, for instance are facing this problem. When they take a bus from their village, they have to alight at Agrahara Bus Stop and then catch another bus to Kuvempunagar. As already mentioned, most of the times, the buses are packed like sardines and the students cannot get into the bus.

Pratap Kumar, a first B.Com student of the Kuvempunagar First Grade College, speaking to Star of Mysore said, "I come to the college from Hatvalu Village near Hullahalli. My bus pass does not have the facility of me catching the bus from CBS. I have to catch a bus from Hullahalli and get down at Agrahara Circle then I wait for the bus to Kuvempunagar for more than an hour. Most of the time even when the bus comes, the driver does not stop as it is already full. If I had the facility of catching the bus from CBS then I would not face this problem."

KSRTC fails to respond to appeal

A few of the students of Kuvempunagar First Grade College told Star of Mysore that they had approached the KSRTC with a letter from their Principal to address their problem. But, the officials there flatly refused to listen to our plea stating that there is no provision in the rules of KSRTC to allow them to catch the bus from CBS.

However, it is learnt that a few students from rural areas do travel from CBS to various colleges with the bus passes they possess. "We do have the facility of travelling from CBS apart from the designated bus stops," said a few students.

When Star of Mysore spoke to the KSRTC officials, they were categorical in stating that there was no way students could travel from CBS, if it is not in their way. However, if the route is from the CBS, then they could travel. Instead, if the students are misusing the facility and travelling from CBS, then stringent action will be taken against the officials, if it is brought to their notice, said officer Srinivas.

"According to the rules of KSRTC, the bus passes are issued to the students from the place of residence to the college to the nearest bus stop. For example, if rural students from K.R. Nagar and Hunsur are studying in Kuvempunagar First Grade College, then they need not go to CBS. Hence, they are issued passes to travel from Ramaswamy Circle. On the other hand if students from Malavalli and Bannur have to travel to Kuvempunagar, they are given passes from CBS."

—Srinivas, Mysuru Rural Divisional Controller, KSRTC

Rural students' plight

Everyday the students perch on the goods auto in their villages, hang on to their dear lives, before reaching the bus stands. From there they catch mofussil buses and once again go through the same rigmarole in trying to catch the city buses to reach their colleges. This is the scene at the Bettadapura hobli in Periyapatna taluk, where there is lack of bus facility to reach schools and colleges in towns and cities.

Dasara jumbos under special care...

Dasara elephants Abhimanyu, Bheema and Drona, which will be taking part in this year's Dasara festivities, are being given bath by the Mahouts at Kanthapura Lake in Matthigodu Elephant Camp in Nagarahole Reserve Forest, Hunsur Division. These elephants are being given special diet from July 18. Neem oil is being sprayed on the body of these elephants to avoid insects and castor oil is being applied on the heads to keep them cool. Other Dasara elephants in the camp are Krishna, Balarama, Gopalaswamy and Varalakshmi.

Gajapayana: Caparisoned elephants will march to city on August 10

Mysuru, July 31 (MTY&BCT)- With less than two months left for this year's Dasara, the Forest Department is gearing up for Gajapayana, the ceremonial journey of Dasara elephants from the forests to Mysuru. And this time, it will be a grand Gajapayana that will be a tourist attraction.

The Department has finalised August 10 as the first Gajapayana date and has planned a cultural extravaganza to welcome the elephants and at the same time attract tourists. In the first batch, eight elephants are likely to be brought and the Department is planning to bring two more extra elephants among the 16 elephants that have been selected for this year's Dasara.

The Gajapayana will begin from Veeranahosahalli forest in Nagarahole National Park, Hunsur taluk. All these years, the Gajapayana was marked by a simple ceremony where Forest Officers would welcome the elephants from the forests as they reach Aloka Palace at Yelwal. From there, they are brought to the Aranya Bhavan (Forest Department Office) at Ashokpuram where they are given a ceremonial welcome and they are later brought to the Mysore Palace without much fanfare.

From the moment the elephants arrived in city till they enter the Mysore Palace, the welcoming ceremony was handled by officers all these years. This year, the Department is targeting a crowd of 5,000 people and an elaborate cultural ceremony is planned.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Deputy Conservator of Forests (Wildlife), Mysore Circle, V. Yedukondalu said that the age-old tradition of Gajapayana will be a grand affair as it is the first leg of Dasara. "Till now, the Gajapayana was a ceremony that was handled by officials and some elected representatives. This year, we have already written to the Tourism Department, schools and colleges and women's organisations requesting their participation," he said.

After the elephants arrive at Aloka Palace, they will be stationed there till August 14 before their journey begins to Aranya Bhavan to the Mysore Palace.

On August 14, Mysuru District in-Charge Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa will perform puja to Arjuna, the elephant that will carry the Golden Howdah and after that, dances including Kamsaale, Dollu Kunitha, Veeragaase, Bombe Kunitha, Puja Kunitha, tribal dance, Tibetan dance, Gorava dance and jenukuruba dances will be performed.

Also, there will be performances along the route from Aranya Bhavan to the Mysore Palace, Yedukondalu said. The procession will begin from Aranya Bhavan via Ballal Circle, JLB Road, and Chamaraja Double Road and enter the Palace through the Jayamarthanda Gate.

The Department has plans to publicise Gajapayana and campaigns will start from Aug. 1.

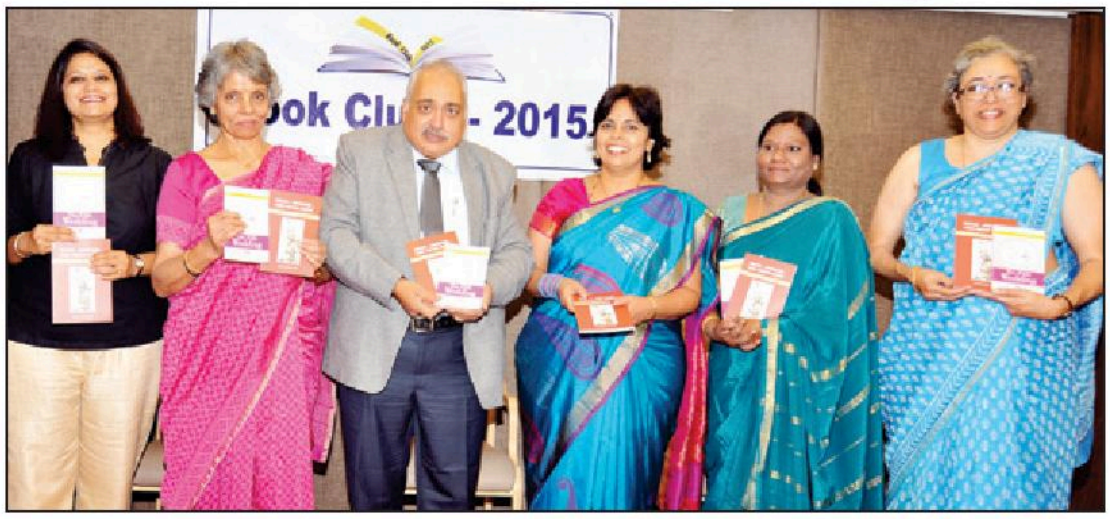
"We are planning a publicity campaign both in print and visual media. In addition, we will install display boards about Gajapayana across the city, Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway and on Hunsur Road to attract and invite people to attend the event," he said.

The DCF said that they are planning to make a documentary film on Gajapayana to popularise the event. The documentary would be screened at public places. "We have a few video clippings of previous year's Gajapayana which would be used for the short film," he said.

The first batch of elephants that will arrive from the forests are Arjuna, Balarama, Abhimanyu, Gajendra, Vijaya and Kaveri. Along with them, there are plans to bring Bheema and Varalakshmi.

The permanent elephant shelter in the Mysore Palace premises, where the first batch of Dasara elephants will be housed. At present, Palace elephants are tied at this shelter. They will be shifted to a different place in the Palace premises when the first batch of Dasara elephants arrive.

Two novels by Indian-American author released in city



Dr. K. Javeed Nayeem, who released Indian-American author Lakshmi Palecanda's (third from right) books in city last evening, is seen with (from right) Lalitha Rao, Vinaya Prabhavathy, Dr. Latha Muthanna and Shubha Sanjay Urs, Founder of Book Clubs.

Mysuru, July 31 (NNN) - It was an evening of banter, bonhomie and intellectual stimulation. The gathering of bibliophiles and a couple of authors and writers added to the free atmosphere with lot of self-deprecating humour. The occasion was the book-release function organised by Book Clubs-2015, last evening at a private hotel in Vontikoppal here.

Medical Practitioner and Star of Mysore Columnist Dr. K. Javeed Nayeem set the ball rolling after releasing the two books "The Fifth Wedding" and "Indian-American...Then Indian Again," when he began, "Good writers need not be good speakers. Since I am not that good a writer, I think I speak fairly well."

Recalling his eleven years association with the author Lakshmi Palecanda, he spoke of the difference between love marriage and arranged marriage with reference to the topic in the book and said, "I cannot relate much to falling in love before marriage because I fell in love with my wife after I got married and it was an arranged marriage."

Lauding the efforts of the author, Dr. Nayeem said that the turns and twists in her stories peppered with humour and command over the language, all made it a very interesting read.

"Can these things happen in real life?," asked author Lakshmi Palecanda when her turn to speak came and answered it herself. "I had just written some of my experiences while in Delhi and I wanted to get it published in a women's magazine. I did not know how to go about it. I was travelling in a train from Delhi to Coimbatore and in a casual conversation with my co-passenger, I shared with him about my writing. He told me that he was an Assistant Editor of Hindustan Times and as soon as he read what I had written, he said that he himself is going to publish it," said Lakshmi Palecanda, sharing her experience of serendipity.

Later, in a conversation with another author Sujata Rajpal, she said that in the three forms of writing, she found writing short stories the toughest, while writing articles and novels was more her forte. However, any form of writing is a labour of love, she added. The gentle banter between the two authors had the audience in splits.

Author Lalitha Rao joined Dr. Javeed Nayeem in releasing the books. Dr. Latha Muthanna and Vinaya Prabhavathy, Secretary, Mysuru Literary Forum Charitable Trust, received the first copies of the books.

Prithvi Sudindar of the Book Clubs read excerpts from the books with elan. Shubha Sanjay Urs, Founder of Book Clubs-2015, welcomed and highlighted the importance of Book Clubs. Suhana Shetty Alva compered the programme.

The two Literary Festivals organised in June have opened the eyes of Mysureans to book launches and with more and more Mysureans turning authors, the stage is set for the literary scene to pick up and match other cities in the country.

She added that about 80 to 100 artistes perform in mobile theatre who would be sent to other States also on demand for performance and their remuneration would be contracted with the owner of the company.

Mysore Varsity Acting-VC alleges huge financial scam in last year's Indian Science Congress

Mysuru, July 31 (SPN&NNN) - Acting Vice-Chancellor of University of Mysore (UoM) Prof. Dayanand Mane has alleged that he had suspicions that irregularities to the tune of crores of rupees had occurred in the 103rd Indian Science Congress (ISC), organised by the UoM last year (Jan. 3 to 7, 2016).

He was speaking at the 'Rakesh Siddharamaiah — A Tribute and Social Justice Convention,' organised by Karnataka State Backward Classes Jagriti Vedike and Rakesh Siddharamaiah Samajika Nyaya Samsthe, in the second seminar, at Rani Bahadur Auditorium, here yesterday.

"More than Rs. 9 crore had been spent on the food arrangements for VIPs at the Indian Science Congress. The money was released in instalments and spent. The Higher Education Department officials have already asked for an explanation and served a notice. If there is no proper reply, then this will be brought to the attention at the next Syndicate meeting and stringent action will be taken against UoM officials," he said.

Prof. Mane wondered how after allocating expenses for food and accommodation separately, it could be changed again and more money released. Then referring to Chief Minister Siddharamaiah's expensive watch, he said that the media had debated about it ad nauseam even at the national level. However, when such a huge irregularity has occurred in UoM, why is the media silent?

Prof. Dayanand Mane, Acting VC of UoM, is seen addressing at the seminar in city yesterday.

Lauding the CM for running the government strictly adhering to the Constitution, in the past four years, he said if we describe the CM as taintless and scam-free politician, it would not be a mistake.

Prof. Muzaffar Azadi of the Political Science Department also spoke at the seminar.

Kannada Sahitya Parishat District President Dr. Y.D. Rajanna said that with the CM introducing pro-poor schemes like Anna Bhagya and Ksheera Bhagya, he was working for the upliftment of the downtrodden and his rule could be compared to former Chief Minister Devaraj Urs who gave a good administration.

Food and Civil Supplies Deputy Director Dr. K. Rameshwarappa, thinker Prof. K.S. Bhagawan, Backward Classes Vedike State President K.S. Shivaram and others were present.

Former VC reacts

Former Vice-Chancellor of UoM Prof. K.S. Rangappa (in pic), during whose tenure the 103rd ISC was held last year, reacting to the charges of Acting-VC Prof. Dayanand Mane, told SOM, "I got the Indian Science Congress to Mysuru with a great deal of effort and against heavy odds. It was the highpoint of the year-long centenary celebrations and including Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who inaugurated the Congress on Jan. 3, 2016, ten Nobel Laureates who attended the five-day event, scientists from all over the country and abroad lauded our efforts. It was a feather in the cap of the University and they all had said, it was one of the best Congress ever held."

He said that he was open to any enquiry as everything was done according to rules, after calling tenders. Moreover, he said, "I chose two people with absolute integrity and honesty as the Local Secretaries — Prof. N.B. Ramachandra and Prof. D.D. Somashekar. They have toiled day and night to make the Congress a success and they were very vigilant regarding the expenses. With nearly 20,000 scientists from all over the country and abroad and Nobel Laureates attending the conference, there were bound to be expenses for which permissions were taken at every step from bodies of the University and the government. The media did not write anything because they had nothing to write about."

"Those who are unscientific and unmeritorious could only speak like this. I have been watching the happenings in the UoM since the last seven months and if this continues, the image of the University will be completely tarnished, and then it will become irrepairable. The Acting-VC speaking against the century-old University like this is in very poor taste," said Prof. Rangappa with a lot of anguish.

Prof. Ramachandra, speaking to SOM said, "Our conscience is clear and we have done our best to make the 103rd ISC one of the best ever. We are prepared for any enquiry."

Unit to be set up at a cost of Rs. 24.07 crore

Addressing press persons at Hotel Siddharta, he said that the demand for Mysuru silk sarees had increased over the past few years, which had prompted the KSIC to come up with new weaving unit to meet the increasing demand.

"The new unit will have a total of 60 power looms initially, which would be increased to 100. This will also provide employment opportunities to 200 people on outsource basis. KSIC will also make provisions to generate electricity using solar power for the new unit," he added.

He said that the T. Narasipur Weaving Unit was also being installed with latest machineries to produce good quality sarees. Stating that the KSIC weaving unit in Channapatna would start operations in the next 10 days, Somashekar added that KSIC would produce Mysuru Silk Sarees, which shall be available at a lower price of Rs. 5,000 as the manufacturing cost was much less compared to other units.

Somashekar said that KSIC would also take measures to modernising the showroom at K.R. Circle and added that it has also booked 10 cases against those involved in cheating customers in the name of Mysuru Silk Sarees.

He also took the opportunity to criticise PM Modi by stating that the customers will have to pay more for the sarees as it attracted 5 percent GST.

Somashekar also mentioned that KSIC had recorded a total turnover of Rs. 175 crore during 2016-17 financial year and the aim was to increase the same to Rs. 185 crore by the end of 2017-18 financial year.

KSIC Marketing Manager Banu Prakash, General Managers Krishnappa and Bheemappa, Accounts Officer Jayasheela and others were present.

Condemning NDA Government policies BSP activists take out protest rally

Mysuru, July 31 (RKB&US)- Condemning the ineffective governance of the BJP-led NDA Government at Centre in not asserting rampant atrocities on Dalits, minorities and women in the country, over 500 activists of Bahujana Samja Party (BSP), Mysuru division, took out a protest rally from Ramaswamy Circle to Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple here this morning where a stage programme was held later.

They pointed out that after BJP came to power in Uttar Pradesh, there has been a collapse in law and order with a quantum leap in crime. They added that BSP supremo Mayawati was not allowed to present her point in Rajya Sabha leading to her resigning from the position.

Vaastu-Feng Shui & Bio-energetics

By S.B.S.Surendran

Happy children

Growing phase for a child is fun but often the little children do get difficult. When left unchecked by the parents, they tend to believe that they are right in their approach and in the long run, it does get difficult to change the pattern of thinking and behavior.

Feng Shui is all about having good harmony, relationship and good health in a home and not just wealth and career. Hence, having a happy home with supportive and happy children makes it even better.

Art of Feng Shui, often referred to as the Chinese art of placement or space alignment, ensures comfort and prosperity to occupants when the space is aligned properly enabling the residents in that space to function at their peak potential and more efficiently.

Hence, organising the space on the basis of Feng Shui especially for the children would be a good thought. All of us need a sense of support and connection in our space or private rooms and this is particularly important for young minds and hearts. A child's room should support him or her both within the context of the family and as an individual.

Fresh air and clearness is of prime importance in children's rooms. Focus on the to the colours for this space, not only for the walls but for the decoration in general. Use light colours in balance with the individual Feng Shui of your child to strengthen the energy for harmonious and successful growth.

Feng Shui is an effective tool to calm down difficult children who tend to misbehave, not wanting to focus on education, disinterested in the affairs of the home and family and not helpful at all. This is not because the child is bad but it's due to the bad Feng Shui prevailing in the home or child's room.

Check the following and correct them:

• If the child's room is facing toilet door, suspend metal wind chimes to suppress this negative flow.

• Check for water feature or toilets under staircase, this is quite critical. Take them off, if you cannot relocate toilet, stop using the toilet if possible or keep the toilet door shut.

• Place a jade or earthen based décor signifying bamboo plant (green in coluor) near the vicinity of the staircase if the above affliction exists.

• Place a crystal globe on the study desk of the child.

• Blue obsidian stone or a pagoda placed on the study desk will also help the child.

• Display happy family photos which will reinforce your child that they are part of a loving, supportive family and make them calm.

• Clutter will make it harder for the child to reach their goals and makes it difficult for students to focus on their studies, de-clutter their room or personal space.

• Slanted ceilings, can lead to oppressive energy. If you must place a bed beneath such a feature, paint this section the same colour as the ceiling. However, it would be better to move the bed away from the lower end of the slanted roof.

A Memorable Hindustani Vocal Concert

Raaga Vaibhava, a consortium of music-lovers, presented a Hindustani Classical Music Concert by Pt. Dr. Ram Deshpande, a renowned vocalist from Mumbai, at Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha on JLB Road in city on July 23.

Dr. Deshpande, 'A' grade artiste of AIR and Television, has presented recitals at several prestigious venues in India and abroad. He is a Gold Medal Awardee of Nagpur University. He completed his Doctoral thesis on "Mishra ragas" under the able guidance of Pt. V.R. Athavale. One can notice a blend of Gwalior and Agra Gharana traditions in his gayaki. Also, he has successfully adopted some of the patterns from Jaipur tradition. He commenced the recital with Raag Multani, an Oudav-Sampoorna, Paramela Praveshika Raaga usually sung around 4 pm, late afternoon according to the time theory. 'Pa' & 'Sa' are the main notes of the raaga and is classified in Todi thaat. This raaga is evolved from the Loka geetha of Multan territory. Hence, the name Multani.

He presented three bandishes in raga Multani, 'kauna desa gaye,' set to vilambit Zhumra taal of 14 beats, followed by a dhrut teen taal bandhish 'aaj bajata badhayi barasane.' The third bandish was 'Nainana mein aan baan' set to dhrut-ek taal of 12 beats. He elaborated the raaga in vilambit zhumra with aalap and behelave was enriched with proper gamaka, khata-murkies and meends. His command over rhythm was established in all the three bandishes. He expressed the raaga with various taans. The rasikas were engrossed in the mood of Multani with the progression of the raaga.

The second number presented was a madhya laya zaptaal bandhish 'Re sakhi aaj nanda nandan' in raag Bihag, a popular evening melody belonging to Bilaval thaat, an oudav-sampoorna raag with 'Ga' & 'Ni' as main notes. The second bandhish presented in Bihag was a dhrut teen taal bandhish 'Ab ho lalana maika.' He then presented a tarana of Gwalior tradition in dhrut teen taal in which the vivadi swara komal nishad was used rarely to express the raag vaichitrrya as in olden times.

Dr. Ram Deshpande proved himself a complete artiste when he rendered a Thumri and natya geet impromptu at the request of the audience. The Thumri 'Jamuna kinare mora gaav' of Mishra Khamaj raaga set to taal Deepchandi caught the attention of the connoisseurs. The rhythmic patterns and firrat taans were expressed nicely in both Thumri and Natya geet. While rendering Marathi natya geet 'kata rute kunala,' set to taal Dadra, based on raag Bhimpalasa, he displayed his command over mishra raagas, expressing different shades of raaga Bhageshri and Gorak kalyan, which were apt for the mood of the Natya geet. The concert was concluded, as per the tradition of Hindustani music, with an Abhanga in raag Bhairavi, 'Ami bighada lo tumhi bighada,' set to Bhajan theka.

It was a memorable vocal concert which was appreciated by the rasikas and connoisseurs. Gandhar Deshpande, son of the main artiste, gave able vocal support. Pt. Veerabhadraiah Hiremath of Mysuru provided able saath on harmonium, Pt. Udayaraj Karpur of Bengaluru provided saath sangath on tabla while Venkatesh and Malavika provided saath on taanpura. In total, Raaga Vaibhava, true to its name, sponsored a memorable Hindustani vocal concert.

Daasa Namana: An enchanting Musical Evening

On July 23, Nadavidyalaya Academy of Music and Dance had organised its third monthly musical evening at Hootagalli where the Vidwat grade students of Guru Vid. M.S. Naveen performed. They were accompanied by Vid. Jagadeesh on tabla and Vid. Purushottam on keyboard. This musical evening was dedicated to the Saint-Poets (Daasa) and their compositions, hence the name Daasa Namana.

The presentation started with Ganapati devaranama 'Gajamukha Vandisuve' composed by Sri Vaadiraja in Nata raga khanda chapu taala. The Bulls, on the other hand, with the youngest squad in the season wanted to start off their 2017 campaign with a win. Rahul Chaudhari and Rohit Kumar, the two captains, had the spotlight on them.

The first 'All Out' of the match happened in the 12th minute, where the lone Telugu Titans raider was pushed off the mat. Bengaluru Bulls took a time-out just at the stroke of half-time and ended the half with a lead of 5 points at 10-15.

Rohit again led the raid department for the Bulls in the second half and managed a bonus point. A series of do-or-die raids followed in the next 10 minutes and this period saw Rohit complete his 'Super 10'. However, the moment that really tilted the match in Bengaluru's favour came in the 37th minute when Ajay managed to pull off a Super Raid. The second 'All Out' for Telugu Titans happened in the 38th minute and the match eventually ended in the Bulls' favour 31-21.

WORD OF THE DAY

Pecuniary

Pronunciation: pi-kyoo-nee-er-ee
Meaning: Of or relating to money: pecuniary difficulties; consisting of or given or exacted in money or monetary payments.
Example: My friend is very honest when it comes to pecuniary matters.
Origin: Pecuniary can be traced to the Latin term pecūnia meaning "property, money" with the root pecū meaning "flock; farm animals." It entered English in the late 1400s.

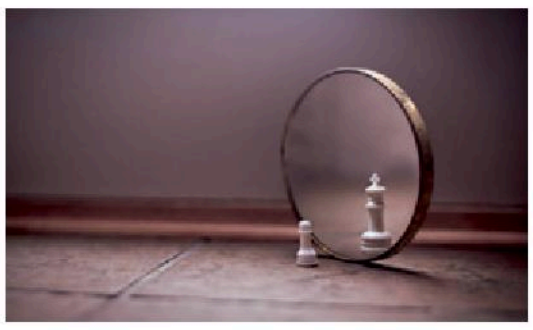
THE ODD WORD

Habanera

Slow and seductive Cuban dance.

IDIOM OF THE DAY

A drop in the bucket



Meaning: A very small proportion of the whole.
Origin: The idiom comes from the Bible, Isaiah 40:15 (King James Version): "Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance: behold, he taketh up the isles as a very little thing." 'A drop in the bucket' is the predecessor of 'a drop in the ocean', which means the same thing, and is first found in a piece from The Edinburgh Weekly Journal, July 1802: "The votes for the appointment of Bonaparte to be Chief Consul for life are like a drop in the ocean compared with the aggregate of the population of France."
